EDITOR'S NOTE

IT'S TIME TO TRAVEL BETTER

We can all agree that 2017 was a tough year for travel. Hurricanes wreaked havoc in the Caribbean and in parts of the US where the recovery process continues. These events affected the travel industry significantly, but more importantly they impacted our lives and those of our loved ones in many different ways.

From a practitioner's standpoint, I can't help but answer the question that many of my peers frequently ask: 'What's the relevance of a travel agency?' Given our experience with the recent spate of events, it's safe to say that travel advisors are essentially your personal lifeline when abroad. Not only are they experts in tailoring the way you travel, they're also able to pull you out of situations that the Internet is simply incapable of doing.

This year's publication therefore focuses on travelling better. Travelling better means maximizing your travel experience, i.e. using the right expertise to find the best hotels at the best prices for you and your family, or going on that tailor-made African Safari you've always dreamt of. Travelling better involves choosing a destination that you've not yet been to. Whether it's Disneyland with the family, Croatia with friends or a solo trip to Iceland for some R&R, we've included great tips and suggestions to get you on your way. Lastly, travelling better means leaving everything up to your travel advisor. The travel advisors at Going Places Travel are the best in the industry with years of experience and access to suppliers, specials & added value that the Internet won't have access to.

Bon Voyage!

OLD WORLD. NEW SHIP. NEW SAILINGS.

ANNOUNCING OUR 2019 SUMMER SEASON IN EUROPE.

Announcing our most exciting season in Europe ever—our 2019 season featuring Celebrity EdgeSM. Europe has never seen a ship like this before, and you've never seen Europe like you'll see it on Celebrity Edge. She's the first ship to feature our unique outward facing design that breaks from traditional ship designs of the past. On Celebrity Edge, you'll feel more connected with the sea and the exciting sun-drenched Mediterranean ports you'll visit.

Celebrity Edge introduces Innovative spaces that turn your focus outward—to the stunning vistas of the Mediterranean—including our new Edge

Stateroom with Infinite VerandaSM that blurs the line between inside and outside with the touch of a button. The incredible Magic Carpet travels up the side of the ship to 13 stories above sea level and offers some of the most stunning views around. Then, there's Eden—a mind-blowing multi-level architectural wonder encased in glass that's designed with luxuriously appointed Lookout Points that offer endless views. On Celebrity Edge, Europe's never looked this good. In fact, the entire ship will not only change the way you experience Europe in 2019—it will change the way you experience the world.

It only makes sense that we designed dynamic itineraries for such an incredibly dynamic ship. Escape on sailings ranging from 7 to 11 nights from London, Barcelona, and Rome and visit cities every world traveler should have on their bucket lists. We've also added new ports of call we've never visited before, including Nauplion, Greece (a charming seaside town with a Greek island feel) and Santa Margherita, Italy (a picturesque seaside town near Portofino). And, with new shore excursions that offer in-depth, authentic experiences like no one else can, every moment ashore will be equally as exciting as your time on board.

THE GALAPAGOS WITH CELEBRITY

If the Galapagos Islands inspired the study of evolution, it only makes sense that they would also inspire our fleet to evolve.

Now, along with our gorgeous 100-passenger Celebrity Xpedition®, we've added two ships to our fleet to give you even more choices for your Galapagos adventure. Go a bit more personal on our mid-sized, 48-passenger Celebrity XperienceSM or have an incredible, intimate trip via our 16-passenger Celebrity XplorationSM. We offer six unique cruise itineraries, 15 islands, more than 30 ports of call, and multiple packages from which to choose.

No matter which stunning vessel you choose for your Galapagos vacation, one of the best features is that they're all-inclusive. A trip to the Galapagos Islands is so unique and so full of monumental experiences that we don't want you to spend a moment thinking about logistics or details. Our Galapagos adventures are blissfully all-inclusive, free of worry and planned with Celebrity luxury down to the last detail. So you immerse yourself in centuries-old landscapes and rare bird sightings, or hang out with an immense 70-year-old tortoise for the day. We've taken care of everything from pre- and post-cruise stays, flights, transfers, meals, beverages, shore excursions, and more.

Travel with us back in time to the magical islands that enchanted Charles Darwin and inspired his studies. Six hundred miles due west of Ecuador, for millions of years they have been home to plants and animals that have evolved and adapted to this unique environment. The islands are beautiful, yes. But their true splendor comes from their unique place in our ecosystem and the opportunity they give us to encounter the past, face to face.

5 Things Not to Pack on a Cruise

1. BOOKS AND MAGAZINES

Carrying heavy books and magazines can add unnecessary weight to your luggage. Leave your volume of War and Peace at home and opt for a lightweight e-book reader instead. That way, you can sail with as many books as you prefer without the added load.

3. DANGEROUS TOYS

Cruise lines want to carry and deliver you and your family as safely as possible. For this reason, toys that could pose a threat to safety such as segways, hoverboards or even large kites are prohibited for understandable reasons.

2. HOME APPLIANCES

Even in cases where there is no iron provided, it's still illegal to bring one aboard because it can pose a fire hazard. Many ships now offer laundry pressing facilities for a fee. Alternatively, you could simply use clever packing methods to minimize creasing of clothes.

4. LIQUOR OR BEER

Hard liquor and beer are strictly forbidden by all major cruise-lines. Luckily, wine and champagne are usually allowed, but you should check with your Travel Advisor to ensure you don't go beyond the permissible limit.

5. NEW, UNWORN SHOES

Most shoes require a "breaking in" period. The last thing you want is blistered feet on a walking tour in a country that you are not familiar with. For this reason, plan ahead by wearing the shoes for a few weeks prior to your cruise to get accustomed to them.

Top Game of Thrones Destinations to Visit on Your Next Holiday

ICELAND

Winter is coming! It will come as no surprise that those chilly scenes of the Mountain Beyond the Wall in season 7 were filmed in a destination renowned for its spectacular frozen landscapes. Kirkjufell is a mountain in the Snæfellsnes peninsula that Game of Thrones fans will remember as being referred to as "The mountain shaped like an arrowhead" in the series. It is one of the most popular locations in Iceland for photography and is about 2 & 1/2 hours away from the bustling capital Reykjavík, depending on the weather.

MOROCCO

The people that Daenerys freed in the season 3 finale were from the fictional city of Astapor, the background of which is actually the Moroccan city Essaouira. Additionally cities of the hit series Yunkai and Pentos were in fact filmed in Aït-Ben-Haddou, a popular location for movie sets in Morocco, as well as a UNESCO World Heritage site and a favourite among tourists in the area.

SPAIN

Many scenes of the action-packed series were filmed in very different parts of this geographically-diverse European nation. Seville was the location chosen to film scenes in season 5 that take place in the fictional Dorne, but other Spanish cities such as Barcelona, Córdoba and Girona featured as well. Not to mention the small seaside town Zumaia where the picturesque beach Itzurun was the backdrop of Dragonstone, the fictional home of Daenerys Targaryen.

CROATIA

Ever wonder where the many outdoor scenes of the King's Landing were filmed? Wonder no more! The ancient, walled city in the story was in fact filmed in Dubrovnik, Croatia. Now a popular tourist destination, Dubrovnik is filled with great restaurants and lots of tours designed for a Game of Thrones enthusiast.

NORTHERN IRELAND

The King's Landing and the King's Road leading from the former in the TV series are in fact several miles apart as it relates to filming locations. The King's Road scenes were filmed in Northern Ireland on Bregagh Road, a dark tunnel of beech trees known as the Dark Hedges that leads to a Georgian mansion. Fans will recall that this is the road Arya Stark uses to escape, disguised as a boy on a quest to find Jon Snow.

Want to see these filming locations in real life? Call a Going Places Travel Advisor to arrange a bespoke travel package for you, tailored to your interests so that wish becomes a reality!

TOP 5 PACKING TIPS FROM AN EXPERIENCED AIR HOSTESS

1. Maximize space in your suitcase by using packing cubes. These are ideal for organizing different items such as toiletries and clothing. It's especially useful for separating business attire from casual attire.
2. Streamline. Only travel with the technological devices that you absolutely need. Every device should have multiple uses. A good smartphone can double as a camera or as an e-book reader with the right app such as Amazon Kindle.
3. Invest in a good, quality suitcase, preferably on wheels.
4. Pack Right! Your heaviest items should go to the bottom of the suitcase near the wheels. This will make it easier to roll the suitcase through the airport.
5. Always pack a swimsuit. It's small, light and it won't take up much space. It always comes in handy!

We've asked a few experts in the travel industry to give us their best tips and now we reveal their top secrets to you.

5 REASONS TO WORK WITH A TRAVEL ADVISOR

1 A Great Travel Advisor... Takes It from Ordinary to Extraordinary

A Going Places Travel Advisor can secure special benefits that you can't get on your own, such as complimentary breakfast, spa credits, and upgrades at hotels. But they also see the nuances in every trip. From big-picture aspects (where to go – and when) to the details that matter (booking the hotel rooms with the best views, where to get the most authentic pizza on the Amalfi Coast), your travel advisor knows how to plan a memorable trip.

2 Knows The World

Just as you might use a financial planner, an interior designer, or personal shopper, it makes sense to entrust your most valuable asset – your time – to an experienced travel advisor. The best advisors spend a lot of time on the road themselves – scouting out hotels, deepening relationships with tour guides, and finding the best restaurants and things to do.

3 Knows Your Travel Style

A Going Places Travel Advisor understands what's most important to you and your travelling companions.

You may want to take a cooking class or a private tour, or you may not want to leave the resort pool! Perhaps you want to use travel to educate your kids, plan an unforgettable anniversary trip, or celebrate a milestone birthday with friends and family. Your travel advisor will have plenty of suggestions on what might work best for you.

4 Expands Your Horizons

A great travel advisor will help you think creatively about where to go and what to do. Italy, France, & Hawaii will always be popular.

But your advisor also knows the best ways, say, to see Chile, Portugal, New Zealand, and many other hot destinations – plus new ways to experience the places you've already visited. Together, you can plan your next dream trip or weekend getaway.

5 Can Handle Anything

Have you ever been on a trip where everything went exactly as planned? Right – this almost never happens. Issues are bound to pop up, and your Going Places Travel Advisor is your personal help line and fixer who knows how to quickly turn things around for the better. When they follow up after your trip, you'll surely have an answer to this question:

"Where do you want to go next?"

FEEL FREE TO JOURNEY TO ENCHANTING LANDS.

Manchester the gateway to the north of England.

Cosy pubs, stately homes, mind blowing gigs, legendary football clubs, and gorgeous countryside.

Founded around 79AD as a Roman fort, Manchester has evolved into one of the world's major industrial centres.

Whether you're into arts and culture, a devoted foodie, bargain grabbing shopaholic, sophisticated fashionista or avid sports fan, Manchester has something for everyone. This exciting and diverse city known as the Capital of the north is also a convenient hub for travel to other northern destinations like Newcastle, Leeds, Chester, York, Liverpool and Lake District.

Arts and Culture

Music, theatre, architecture and Manchester's vibrant art scene delivers the ultimate cultural experience.

Oasis, Simply Red, Take That, The Verve - What do they have in common? These are all products of Manchester's thriving music scene. The city that gave birth to these iconic pop and rock bands is also home to some of the world's most famous live music venues including Albert Hall, The Leadmill and Cavern Club. So depending on your musical fancy you'll be well entertained in one of the city's sophisticated concert halls or edgy nightclubs.

The cultural experience isn't limited to music; there are numerous art galleries, museums and of course local arts and crafts. So go ahead and explore Manchester's artistic offerings.

Sports

Manchester is home to two premier league football teams, Manchester United and Manchester City. The fierce rivalry between these two teams is legendary and well known to football fans worldwide. For many, a trip to Manchester is incomplete without a visit to Manchester United's home base stadium Old Trafford. Discover what happens behind the scenes with a visit to the Old Trafford museum or The National Football Museum.

For cricket lovers a visit to the Old Trafford cricket ground is a must do. With a seating capacity of 22,000, it's the home ground of the Lancashire County Cricket Club.

Shopping

Described as the shopping capital of northern England, Manchester offers everything from high-end designer brands to high street retailers and unique independent boutiques.

Manchester Arndale, with more than 200 shops is the biggest indoor shopping mall in central Manchester. Alternatively, visit the Northern Quarter for locally made jewellery vintage wear and unique creative designs from independent boutiques. Shopping on a budget? Head to the Lowry Outlet for huge discounts on popular brands. The Trafford Centre is one of the UK's largest malls; this beautifully designed facility has more than 200 boutiques including Selfridges and Ted Baker. There's something for every taste and budget in this northern shopping mecca.

Transportation

Getting around Manchester couldn't be easier. The Metroshuttle is a free hop on and off service that links all of the main rail stations, shopping districts and business areas. The Metrolink tram is a good option for sightseeing while the environmentally friendly water taxi service WAXI accesses important sites via the city's canals.

Getting there from Barbados

Virgin Atlantic has two flights a week from Barbados to Manchester.

Croatia

A Land of Contrasts

Imagine idyllic Mediterranean beaches juxtaposed by historical medieval towns. Hikes through national parks just miles away from fine dining options with impeccable wine. Ancient, storied buildings and unspoiled wild life. Refined glamour, moments away from family fun. Quiet, secluded bays for couples yet an active night life for partying groups. Croatia is a diverse land of contrasts where there is something for everyone.

Beautiful beaches don't come to mind immediately when we think of Europe, but Croatia with its 1,246 islands of every kind is perfectly placed along the Adriatic Sea Coast. Many of the most beautiful beaches in the Mediterranean can be found here.

1. TOUR THROUGH DUBROVNIK

The Croatian city is perfect for families as it combines idyllic Mediterranean coastline with tons of beach activities, and national parks perfect for hiking and admiring nature. Furthermore, the city is brimming with rich history and culture just waiting to be explored!

2. WINE TASTING

Croatia is home to over 300 wine regions, with vineyards near and far in the nation. While in Croatia be sure to visit the wine region of the year for 2017; Istria, a peninsula ideal for discovering new pairings of wine with food.

3. TAKE A HIKE

Croatia has many national parks, the most popular of which is Plitvice Lakes National Park. Picture-perfect, its mesmerizing natural beauty draws nature enthusiasts in droves every year, peaking in July and August. The stunning national park is home to 16 terraced lakes, abundant cascading waterfalls and rivers. Also worthy of mention are Mljet National Park and Krka National Park.

4. HIT THE BEACH

There are beaches best for families with tons of beach activities, there are secluded beaches ideal for privacy, there are beaches best for docking boats, and there are "clothing-optional" beaches. There are beaches with golden sand, there are beaches with smooth white pebbles and there are beaches with rocks. Beaches where you can walk into the glittering water for several minutes and still not find yourself knee-deep. There are also beaches with deeper waters perfect for swimming. Trust us when we say there is a beach in Croatia for everyone!

New York Minute

Two Days in the Big Apple: Where you go, what you see and what you eat!

Travelling to New York City for just a few days? If you're planning a short and sweet trip in the city that never sleeps, here are some suggested activities to help you get the most out of your trip, in a limited time frame.

DAY 1

A.M. Early Morning

Are you an early riser? If so, catch the taping of the NBC Today Show at the Rockefeller Plaza. It's free but remember to go early to secure a good spot. You might even appear on TV, in shots of the audience.

Breakfast

While in the area try the superb Bouchon Bakery, well-known for its exquisite pastries and mouth-watering breads.

Sightseeing

Take the Rockefeller Centre Tour then head up to the Top of the Rock Observation Deck for a great daytime view. Then take the Metro and visit the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

P.M Lunch

ABC Kitchen is recommended as a high-end option for foodies. Have a go at the crab toast and for dessert, indulge in the famous salted caramel sundae.

After lunch, take the subway over to the High Line for a bit of nature in the middle of the city.

Retail Therapy

You will be spoilt for choice on the streets of Soho, where you'll find every item under the sun.

Dinner

Definitely have a meal at Marcus Samuelson's restaurant, Red Rooster in Harlem. We recommend the Fried Bird Royale!

Late night

Admire the lights from an incredible vantage point from the Empire State Building - open till 2 A.M.

DAY 2

A.M. Breakfast

Treat yourself to a sumptuous breakfast at Russ and Daughters. The open kitchen experience and the delectable cuisine is worth the cost.

Sightseeing

Take the subway to see Brooklyn Bridge and Brooklyn Heights. Other major sites include the Charging Bull and the Fearless Girl. You can also immerse yourself in the hustle and bustle of the financial district Wall Street.

P.M. Lunch

Close-by you will find Chelsea Market, where you'll experience the variety of a myriad of stalls. While there, indulge in delicious Mexican tacos at Los Tacos.

Retail Therapy

Shop at Westfield World Trade Centre to find all of the major brands in one place.

Sightseeing

No trip to New York City would be complete without a stroll through Central Park!

Dinner

Hop onto the subway to try Miss Lily's for the best Jamaican food in the city.

Late Night

Finish off the night with a classic Broadway or off-Broadway show. Then, tick 'best trip to NYC ever' off your bucket list!

BONUS: Frequent Traveller Tip

Use the Citymapper app to find your way around Manhattan. It'll help with taking the subway and will even tell you how many footsteps you have to take to get from sight to sight!

All of The Lights

One of the best features of the large urban sprawl of cities are beautiful city lights. From the City that Never Sleeps to the City of Lights, here are the metropolises with the most stunning night time skylines, and where to see them.

1. NEW YORK CITY

There are many vantage points to admire the city lights of New York City, such as Brooklyn Bridge & Promenade and the Empire State Building. However, Top of the Rock can accomplish one thing the more popular Empire State Building cannot. It gives you a view that includes the Empire State Building! Still, if you seek the best view of all, splurge on a helicopter. Liberty Helicopters does a tour called The Big Apple Tour that lasts approximately 15 minutes and includes seeing the World Trade Centre, Central Park and the Statue of Liberty in all of her glory from on high.

2. TORONTO, CANADA

The CN Tower in Toronto is the most popular spot to see the beautiful city. But if you enjoy taking beautiful photos, here's a tip: many photographers much prefer the view from Polson Pier, as the reflection of the city lights on the harbor is peerless.

3. PARIS, FRANCE

The central focus of the City of Lights is the Eiffel Tower and it won't come as a surprise that this architectural wonder is the most popular spot for breathtaking night views. However, if you're really after views that include the Eiffel Tower, try Parc de Belleville, a public park where a spellbinding view can be found - after a hike to the top, that is!

4. CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

If you're a thrill-seeker you will love the Willis Tower, where a transparent glass ledge extends outward over the city so it feels as though you're suspended in mid-air. If that sounds too terrifying, another great way to experience the city is to have dinner at the Signature Lounge on the 96th floor of the John Hancock building, where a stunning night-time cityscape awaits your arrival.

5. SHANGHAI, CHINA

The Oriental Pearl Tower in the Pudong district features an observation floor several hundred feet above the ground that boasts dizzying views of Shanghai below. Also try The Bund for views that include Shanghai World Financial Centre, Jin Mao Tower, Shanghai Tower and of course the aforementioned Oriental Pearl TV Tower.

Bright lights, lots of flights.

The peace of mind a relaxing holiday provides is incomparable. Check out some of the numerous benefits of a life well-travelled below!

1. Travelling has psychological benefits

Taking time off for a beach vacation is scientifically proven to relieve psychological strain. Michigan State University undertook a study that proved that exposure to “blue spaces”, such as the sea, is linked to lower psychological distress. So make your next getaway sea-side for complete peace of mind and improved mental health.

2. Travelling makes you smarter and a better worker

A 2009 study found that students who lived overseas were more likely to solve a computer task than those who had never left their home country. Travel also improves business performance: workers who vacation abroad are more productive, more positive, less stressed and reportedly suffer less burnout.

3. Travel boosts your health

Exposure to different environments will help develop stronger antibodies and a more resilient immune system. It will also develop your brain health, increasing cognitive flexibility as adapting to new situations while immersed in different cultural environments is necessary.

4. Travel could even prevent a heart attack

A study undertaken found that women who took trips twice yearly showed a drastically reduced risk of having a heart attack than those who travelled only once every six years. Likewise, men who took an annual trip were 30% percent less likely to suffer from heart disease than those who did not.

You deserve that getaway to renew your body and mind. Schedule a relaxing vacation package with Going Places Travel today!

Iceland

Land of Ice & Fire

The ultimate destination of every roving traveller's dreams, Iceland is where the most ardent wanderlust just might be sated. Possibly the most astonishing place imaginable, the diversity of the landscape is simply unparalleled. You'll find glaciers, volcanic wastelands, black sand beaches, deserts punctuated by rivers, rolling fields and fjords, all in a land mass that is barely larger than the state of Maine. However, words don't do this striking isle justice - the best way to find out about Iceland is to experience it for yourself.

1. EXPLORE

Let's face it: Iceland is mostly known for its natural topography, and that requires leaving the capital Reykjavík behind, on a road trip or two. It's best to take a guided tour but if you're the truly adventurous type, you can simply get a car rental and grab a map. Top favourites include the black sand beach Reynisfjara, Skógafoss (an epic waterfall), active volcano Hekla and most spectacular of all:

Skaftafell Park where you will find some of the most surreal landscapes on earth.

2. WHALE WATCHING

If you are a true adventure aficionado or at least a lover of wild animals, you will enjoy climbing aboard a boat and heading out into deep waters to glimpse the largest mammals on earth, blue whales. You might instead see smaller whales, not to mention friendly dolphins and porpoises, but it will nevertheless be a one-of-a-kind experience. Some boat staff also regale tourists with Icelandic folklore about whales on the trip.

3. R&R

More than likely, you've seen or heard about the milky blue waters of the Blue Lagoon, Iceland's most famous geothermal spa. Not only is the water said to have health benefits, but the spa also serves in-water massages, silica mud masks and features sauna and steam rooms to truly help you relax so that you leave feeling re-energized by nature.

4. SEE THE NORTHERN LIGHTS

It's important to note that the stunning colours of the Northern Lights are best viewed through a photographic lens. Furthermore, the spectacle also known as Aurora Borealis occurs during a particular time of year so it requires planning best left up to a travel professional, not to mention quite a bit of luck as for maximum enjoyment you need clear skies and very dark nights. With those disclaimers behind us, if you do manage to catch the display, it is a sight you will never forget!
